THE DOOR TO THE FUTURE STANDS OPEN

We, the youth of today, are prepared to enter that future without fear, but before we take our first step forward, we would like to review the pages of the past, a past wherein lies the foundation for today and tomorrow.

Our world has taken great strides of progress in the last few years but the bases for this progress were moving merry-go-round, lighted with brilliantly colored dark basements, and red brick schoolhouses.

Through science our world will become a swiftly moving merry-go-round, lighted with brilliantly colored neon bulbs, and powered by tiny atoms of energy.

This is the future we are to enter, as the present becomes past, and the past falls into history

FRANK M. CORY, Superintendent

A.B., Indiana University

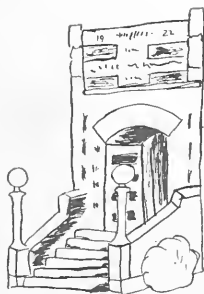

A.M., Columbia University

SUPERINTENDENT . . . a friend

We, at Hagerstown High School, are very fortunate to have as our superintendent, a man such as Mr. Cory. He befriended us when we came here in the seventh grade, and during later years his tireless efforts have been most helpful and encouraging.

His duties are chiefly the planning and administering of a continually broadening program of education for both the elementary and the high school. Also his are the responsibilities of establishing school policies, securing the best teachers available as well as equipment, and maintaining all physical aspects of the educational system.

With all this he still finds time to be a good friend and counselor to all students. We shall always remember him for his pleasing personality and his smile, as well as his leadership abilities.

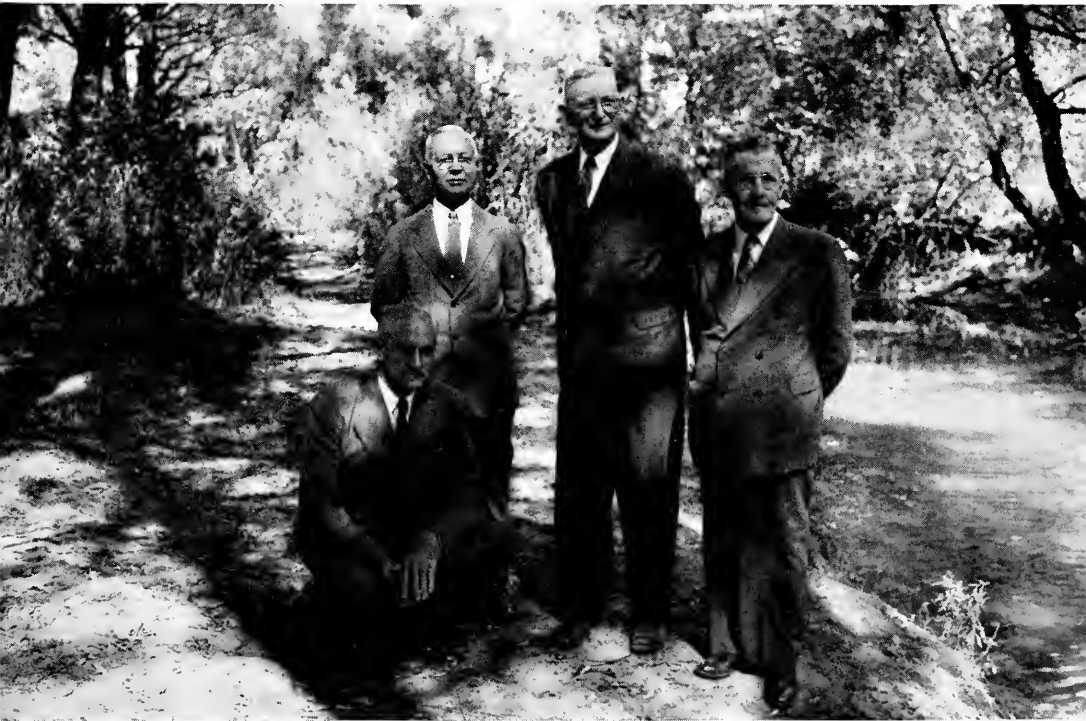

SCHOOL BOARD . . . governors

This year's school board consists of Mr. Dan Teetor, President; Mr. Lee Reynolds, Secretary; and Mr. Albert Bland, Treasurer. Mr. Bland, who served on the board in former years, is taking the place of Mr. Clarence Vornauf, deceased.

It is their duty to see that students leave Hagerstown Schools better fitted to meet the world. They are working so that boys and girls in our community will have the best grade and high school education possible. It is for these reasons that we take this opportunity to thank them from the bottom of our hearts.

F A C U L T Y helpful

Friendliness, wisdom, patience, sincerity, and understanding—these are the qualities that make our faculty helpful counselors.

Our school is indeed fortunate in having a corps of teachers possessing a patient and sympathetic understanding of the student's problems. While each is busy with his many tasks, he is always more than glad to assist us.

We can well be proud of the calibre of our faculty members.

Standing: Mr. Edwardson, Mrs. Smith, Mr. Sedgwick, Mr. Rudicel, Miss Clevenger, Mrs. Abbott, Miss Greer, Miss Smith, Mrs. Barnhart.

In rear: Mr. Cory, Mr. Baughman.

JOHN H. BAUGHMAN, Principal

A.B., Indiana University
M.A., Wisconsin University

PRINCIPAL guiding hand

Mr. Baughman is teacher, attendance worker, schedule maker, guidance counsellor, tester, record keeper, senior finance manager, "traffic director," and morale builder at H. H. S.

During his "free" periods you may go to the office to consult him about any of your school problems. Whatever the students' interests are, he will always take a genuine interest in them.

His varied duties require much handling of detail which call for a good staff of student helpers. Upper class students find it very interesting and of considerable value to assist with the work of the office.

A keen understanding of students and a friendly attitude in assisting them with their problems goes a long way in keeping students on a more even keel. We wish him much continued success.

Many detours have been taken on the well trodden path of READIN', WRITIN' and 'RITHMETIC since Grandma, with the aid of the hickory switch, first expounded their values.

Today's broad curriculum includes such subjects as Speech, Fine Art, Home Arts, scientific and technical courses, Agricultural methods, and metal working crafts—subjects which make more students better adjusted to an educational program that fits the needs of ALL boys and girls.

SENIORS

"PARTING IS SUCH SWEET SORROW"

After our arrival, as freshmen, in 1943, we spent our spare time learning the ropes as underclassmen. We led a rather colorless existence up until our Junior year when we published two Junior papers and presented a 3 act comedy "Love Thy Neighbor." After this performance we quietly retired until April when we provided entertainment for the Seniors of 1946 with our Junior Prom.

From the beginning of the fall semester we have climbed the path of glory. We have given a class play, "Old Doc," have put on a carnival which was a huge success. We have led in numerous other activities which added vastly to the development of initiative, leadership and the social side of our high school education.

This pride which we begin to feel as our graduation goal approaches we hope will not be misunderstood. It is only natural to have wanted to do things better than preceding classes have done. We expect the classes which follow us to be inspired by us to attempt even greater things.

Now at the conclusion of our high school career, we can say truthfully that this has been our crowning year, and it is not without regret that we offer our farewells to the faculty and our underclassman pals.

ONE MORE TIME AT BAT

The students of the class of '48 are about to face their last year at ye ole' high school building. It is this class that will serve as a guiding force for their underclassmen in the forthcoming year. It is they who will have all the responsibilities that come along with being seniors.

But wait—what about their Junior year?

This Junior class, which proudly has an enrollment of 63, has done an excellent job of facing its obligations. For their first appearance on the stage, they chose Love Is Too Much Trouble, under the direction of Miss Resler. From this play, a lot of unusual talent was recognized, which will be a great asset for them next year. Their prom, with lighting effects and sparkling fountain, was quite original and greatly appreciated by the seniors.

The Senior Class of '47 wishes to congratulate the Juniors for the outstanding work they have accomplished, and wish them the best of luck as seniors.

THEY LOVE A PARADE!

Whenever you hear the rhythmic rolling of the snare drums and the steady pace of the marching majorettes, you will see, if you turn to look, a fair representation of the Sophomore Class, for eight of the nine majorettes are from this class.

These Sophomores have gained a fine reputation for their business-like methods; with one eye on the future (and especially the Jr. Prom) they launched a very successful (have-you-seen-our-beautiful-cards?) money-making campaign which has increased their "financial status" considerably.

So, HATS OFF TO THE SOPHOMORES, as they march on into their Junior year.

Sophomore Class Officers

Front: Mr. Helman, Mrs. Helman, M. Swearingen, president, P. Greer.

Back: N. Bales, J. Fisher.

CLASS OF "50"

The freshman class entered the first of their four years of high school life with a big bang. Two of their girls were elected yell leaders. This indicated unusual leadership ability. Later they distinguished themselves by having one of the largest lists of honor students. This shows that they also have scholastic ability. Then also it was noted that quite a few found themselves being sent to the office. This proves that there is also plenty of mischievousness whenever they get together. (EDITOR'S NOTE: Latest reports indicate an improvement toward becoming civilized. It couldn't be that they are growing up, could it?) Nevertheless, there will never be a dull moment until this class graduates.

Freshman Class Officers

LOTS OF ACTION HERE

This year's eighth grade has seemingly grown and matured very quickly. And when it comes to doing their share toward backing the team, they are right there with plenty of pep! Miss Clevenger and Mr. Sedgwick are their sponsors. The class elected Dick Corbitt as their president.

OUR YOUNG HOPEFULS

Here is a group that has proved themselves above average in regard to conducting themselves in school. A high per cent have received A's in citizenship and several have made the Scholastic Honor Roll. Their sponsors are Mr. and Mrs. Barnhart. They elected Gerald Metsker as their class president.

SEVENTH GRADE

S P O R T S

The wheels of progress have carried the high school athletic program into broader fields since the 1920's. I.H.S.A.A. is now "big business," and basketball has made it so. Find a high school that doesn't have its big-time coach. Small schools are constant threats to the big teams; upsets are the rule, not the exception in present day tourneys.

Most important perhaps is the emphasis now placed on character training and sportsmanship, yet the drive for victory still remains from those "eat-'em-alive" days.

COACH REX RUDICEL

RETURNS TO TIGER'S LAIR

The highlight of the athletic calendar for the year was the return of Coach Rex Rudicel to the helm after serving 28 months in the army. Much of the success the Tigers have had during the past few years has been due to the excellent coaching of 'Rex'. During the seven years that Rex has been at Hagerstown we have won many games. Although we have not won the Sectional during this time, it usually took an outstanding team from Richmond to beat us out. He has been a fine coach to work with and carries the confidence of all those working with him.

YELL LEADERS

The Tiger Yell Leaders have carried well the responsibility of creating a sportsmanlike attitude and maintaining that attitude during many an exciting game whether we were ahead or behind. Our three active yell leaders, Bill Wilkinson, Senior, Dorothy Forrest and Mary Cartmell, Freshmen, have certainly done their utmost to further good sportsmanship. The sportsmanlike attitude of our school is one upon which the fans can look with pride and their opponents with respect. In the Pep Sessions, which were held regularly before each game, the teachers and speech class helped to develop school spirit which was carried over into the game. We have Yell Leaders who deserve our praise.

ATHLETICS AT H. H. S.

Almost before we had settled down to classes this fall, athletics had taken hold of H. H. S. We began in the fall with the baseball league, and in November turned to basketball for the winter months. But of course all the fellows who go out for basketball cannot possibly make the team. These boys who cannot qualify are organized into intramural basketball teams which turn what might be dull noon hours into moments of excitement. The girls also took an active part in the athletic program by way of a girls' class tournament at the conclusion of the basketball season. The Juniors came out with top honors. In the past years, basketball has ended the sports program but this year the Tigers decided to participate in a spring program of track and spring baseball to completely round out the athletic program of the school year.

DIRECTORS: Rex Rudicel, Eleanor Greer.

HAGERSTOWN "TIGERS"

REX RUDICEL

Our coach, genial gentleman of basketball.

JIM CORY "3"

Jim came through the season as high point man. A senior that will be missed next year. His left handed shots are hard to stop.

NORMAN GRAY "1"

Also a senior this year. A good ball handler with an eye for the basket.

ABE THALLS "0"

A fellow who really makes a showing under the basket. His tip-ins have helped many times.

BOB FORREST "9"

Also a junior this year. Hits from out on the floor. Can keep up with any of them.

CHARLES CAIN "5"

A shotmaker from the corners and under the basket. Has come through to save the game many times.

DICK BROWN "8"

A junior this year. Dick will be a big help on next year's team. Has plenty of drive.

DEAN CONWELL "2"

A senior this year. Our chief morale builder who does his part when he is sent into the game.

MAX SMITH "7"

A fellow who can be depended on in time of need. Plays a cool, heady, game.

DEAN HILBERT "6"

His height is a great advantage in taking the ball off the back board. Another junior whose future looks bright.

Frank Ashinger administers first aid to injured player, Eddy Edwardson.

"TAKES A ONE-HANDER . . . IT'S GOOD"

The Tigers really got going this year "jest before X'mas," then went on to win eleven games out of the last fourteen played. Add these games to your "memoirs": Beating Cambridge in the Invitational, that one-pointer over Liberty, that final barrage against Farmland (12 points in last 2 minutes) AND—that "sweet revenge" over Fountain City in an overtime which put us in the finals of the Sectional Tourney.

SQUEEZE PLAY WORKED, TOO

With the consistently good pitching of Jim Cory, the baseball team had a successful season, winning seven games and losing only three.

Several times during the season the tigers showed great batting power with seven boys batting over .250. The leading batters were Murray .417, Gray .389, and A. Thalls .383.

The Tigers will be hard hit by graduation, losing seven of the starting nine.

"RUN SHEEPIE RUN"

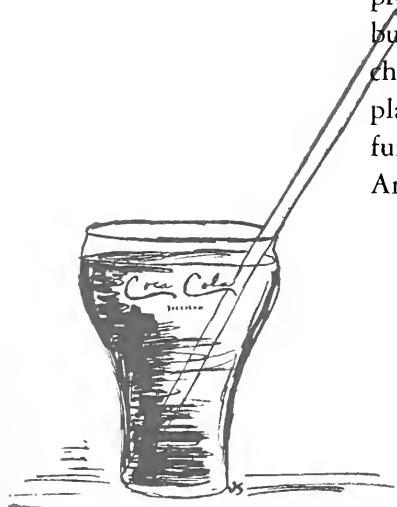

The girls' athletic department, under the supervision of Miss Eleanor Greer, showed that the boys aren't the only ones in school that are interested in school sports. The girls have given a good account of themselves. While the weather was nice they played baseball out of doors. When the weather got bad they turned to gymnastics, volleyball, kickball, inside baseball, and, most important, basketball. The Junior Class won the basketball tourney.

A C T I V I T I E S

Clubs, organizations, extra-curricular, and intra-mural programs, once a tiny ripple in that vast academic ocean, have now swelled to the proportions of a tidal wave. The varied demands of a new generation are met by the school's broader program of activities designed to turn the busy action of youth into constructive channels. Opportunities for initiative, planning, leadership, followership—and fun—are today a recognized part of the American educational process.

Home Room Committee Members: Jo Ann Mays, Dean Conwell, Alan Hale, Diane Spencer, Phyllis Greer, Jim Sedgwick, Bonnie Fuson, Dick Ulrich, Dick Dirks, Martha Sedgwick.

Advisors: John Baughman, Frank Cory.

OUR STUDENT GOVERNMENT—NEW AND SUCCESSFUL

As a result of H. H. S. interest in student government, a group came into being this year called the Homeroom Committee. This organization is composed of one student from each homeroom. The group as a whole represents the student body.

The sponsors of this organization are Mr. Baughman and Mr. Cory. Choosing officers for their group, the Committeemen elected Dean Conwell, President, and Diane Spencer secretary and treasurer.

The presence of this group has made itself felt as a coordinating influence between student body and the faculty. Their job is to be concerned about problems both large and small which have anything at all to do with the student welfare both in class activities and extra-curricular activities.

CRUSADERS DURING WAR AND PEACE

This year under the sponsorship of Mrs. Helman, the council has done a great deal of "behind the scenes" work.

Janie Cartmell, president, represents Hagerstown on the County Council as Treasurer. Under her capable leadership, the council has made favors for the wounded men in our veterans' hospitals, several hundred Christmas cards, and educational boxes which were sent overseas to the children of war-torn Europe. A safety campaign for bicycle riders was also conducted.

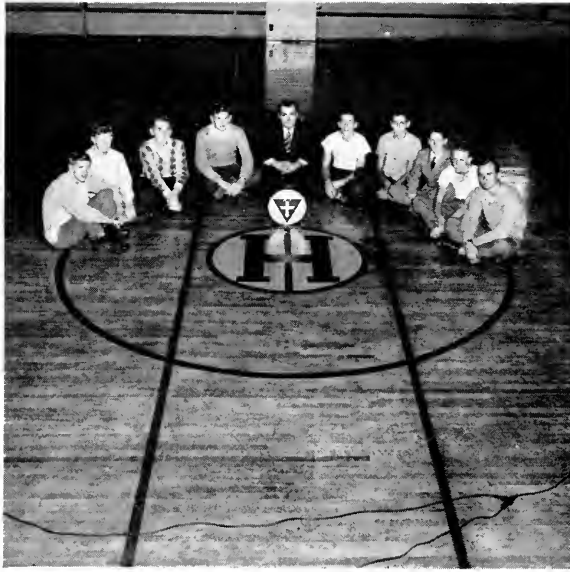

For all their efforts, they hope to be rewarded by having someone sent from the council as a delegate to the National Convention at Cleveland in June.

HI-Y OFFICERS

HI-Y—THE GUIDING LIGHT

The Hi-Y Club, which has as its standards, Clean Speech, Clean Sports, Clean Scholarship and Clean Living, is recognized throughout the school and community as a religious organization. Also, the Hi-Y Club is attempting to uplift the standards of high school boys by impressing upon them the purpose of the Club. This purpose is: "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character." Definite emphasis is placed on a fourfold life that pertains to the building of the Mind, Body, Spirit, and Service.

This year the first and second degree work was prepared and given before the Club membership in the initiation of the new members coming into the Club.

Under the leadership of our supervisor, Mr. Helman, and the efforts of the Hi-Y Cabinet, the Club has enjoyed a very interesting and prosperous year.

The Hi-Y Club jointly sponsored a dance along with the Y-Teens Club for which Tommy Robbins and his Orchestra provided the music. The annual Father and Son Banquet was a grand success with Danny Danielson, a former athlete at Indiana University, and now a member of the Indiana Coaching Staff, as guest speaker for the occasion. Technicolor movies of the Indiana vs. Nebraska football game, shown by Mr. Danielson, were also greatly enjoyed.

During the school year we enjoyed several very interesting and informative speakers for our meetings, which were held every other Wednesday morning.

Plans for the coming year are made in the spring with an election of officers which will ensure a strong and constructive program.

SOMETHING OLD, SOMETHING NEW

The year 1946 marked the re-christening of an old organization, here at H. H. S., when the name "Girl Reserves" was changed to "Y-Teens." But the changing of names did not alter the amount of activities in which this lively group of girls engages.

They started the year off by initiating the "freshies" at the Freshman Party, with the aid of their new sponsor Miss Greer and president Dorothy Gwin. Later, at the Mother and Daughter Tea, they were formally initiated in a very impressive candlelight service.

A preview of the new school building project by Mr. Cory, a book review by Mrs. Vern Chapman, and an entertaining talk on life in India by Don McCullough, were only a part of the many regular meetings of the Y-Teens.

On February 8, the Hi-Y and Y-Teens sponsored a sport dance, "Holiday for Hearts." Tommy Robbins and his orchestra provided the music.

The annual Mother and Daughter Banquet was held March 21. Miss Shirley Crabb, student at Earlham College, was the speaker. She described her experiences on a trip to Colombia, S. A.

Patronesses for 1946-47 were Mrs. Opal Forrest, Mrs. Raymond Weber, Mrs. Bruce Abbott, and Miss Helen Smith.

SNOOP-'N-SCOOP STAFF SHOWS SKILL

Being where news is always in the making (H. H. S., that is) provides opportunity for those journalistically minded students, the Exponent Staff, to find subjects of interest to both students and the community on which to try their writing talents. They keep all informed of the activities and accomplishments of the students and the school.

Among the news items handled by this industrious staff are, club news, athletic write-ups, announcements of honor roll students, chapel programs, and Hi-Y and Y-Teen activities.

Mrs. Helman is the very capable advisor of this group. Lois Aders is this year's editor-in-chief.

MARTHA CROMER

EPITOME CROWNS OUR TASK

We are now nearing our first big goal in life, that of becoming high school graduates. We have been through the measles and bruises of grade school, that lost feeling in junior high, the greenness of our freshman year, the romance problems of our sophomore year, the activities of our junior year, and we are now experiencing the glory (and anxiety) of our senior year.

As one of our final official acts, we have edited the Epitome of '47 as a pictorial history of our last and most eventful year at H. H. S.

EPITOME OF '47 A FEATHER IN HER CAP

Martha was the "Big Chief" of this year's Epitome staff. By her "Injun"—uity, imagination, and the many hours she spent with the staff and its supervisor, Mr. Baughman, the Epitome of '47 was transformed from a few vague ideas into an actual publication.

THEN THERE'S THE LIGHTER SIDE

Back to nature for a little rest and repose after a grueling session with the Epitome staff. Yes, this business is maddening—rushing to meet deadlines, choosing covers, soliciting orders, writing and typing copy—Is it any wonder we are wanting to break away from it all and are longing for something like a simple jungle life vacation?

But all our pain and efforts were not in vain. We realize this as we proudly gaze upon our own year book—our own Epitome.

GROW IN F. F. A.

The Future Farmers of America is for farm boys enrolled in Vocational Agriculture and interested in establishing their own farms. This organization aims to assist its members to become good farmers and to encourage established farmers to keep up their efficiency in farming through special adult classes.

Boys develop their own project programs which provide necessary training in modern, scientific, agricultural methods.

F. F. A. has four degrees. As one advances, he must demonstrate his ability to assume and carry out definite responsibilities on the farm and in the community; and he must prove his interest by increasing his ownership in crop production, livestock, and machinery. Hagerstown F. F. A. boys have held up these fine standards in the past and hope to continue in the future.

BOY'S 4-H CLUB

The Boy's 4-H Club, under the leadership of Mr. Edwardson, has many interesting and educational projects in which its members participate. Some of them are: Livestock, Poultry, Gardening, Potatoes, and Corn.

During the season, all members work on their various projects. Then in the fall the results of their efforts are displayed at the County exhibit, where they are judged and given a grade.

The older members become junior leaders, who help the new members in starting their work.

HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT

The Home Economics Department, under the leadership of Mrs. Smith, offers three years of one of our school's most interesting and worthwhile courses.

The first year consists primarily of Foods and Clothing. A short project in personal and social relations stressing manners and the ability to get along well with others is given with the Foods work, and with Clothing, the girls learn the valuable art of everyday living.

The schedule for the second year of Home Economics is advanced Foods and Clothing, plus some study of Budgets.

The third year, the course is quite different and probably the most interesting. The first semester is devoted to Child Care and to Home Nursing, taught partly by Mrs. Russell, the school nurse. The girls completing this course satisfactorily are given a Red Cross Certificate. The second semester consists of Housing the Family, in which Family Relationship is studied, and a plan of their ideal home and furnishings is drawn, and home equipment is studied.

More girls should consider majoring in Home Economics because of the useful knowledge to be gained.

A-BAND "smoothies"

The high school band, under the direction of Mr. Helman, has become, in the past few years, quite an accomplished and entertaining group.

This year the band participated in a musical contest held in Union City, Indiana, on April 19.

The band played for the Memorial Day Services, and all the home basketball games. During the summer months they entertained with weekly concerts on the post office grounds.

Band officers this year are: student director, Jim Cory; captain, Dean Conwell; lieutenant, Tim Tuttle; sergeant, Charles E. Cain; corporal, Dick Brown; librarian, Priscilla Sherry.

THE WHOLE WORLD IS SINGING A SONG

Mr. Helman is the director for both choirs and is always willing to help his "singing canaries" any way possible.

Both choirs have had a lot of fun this year and hope that the future choirs will enjoy themselves as much as they have.

SMALL BUT OH SO MIGHTY! (ORCHESTRA)

The Hagerstown High School orchestra is small but oh! so mighty!

They play for many activities during the school year, both at home, and at other township schools.

"SPEECHERS" GO PLACES

"One More Tomorrow" always seemed to be the parting words when we left Miss Resler's Senior Speech Class.

Did we worry about that Speech for tomorrow? (Not until the next day at the same time when you heard your name called.) That was when the sinking sensation came over you and you were too dumbfounded to speak.

But there were always a few "brains" in the class who took us on wonderful imaginary trips to the moon, South Sea Islands and the football games. Almost any place we wanted to go.

Then there was the time that we were fortunate enough to have an inmate from a near-by Insane asylum to speak to us. He gave us a step by step account of just how you go about getting your membership card.

Speech is a subject that is both entertaining and educational. Everyone of us should know how to put to use our good "ole" English language and Speech helps you to do just that. (Ed. Note: Q. E. D.)

"LEAVE US TAKE TYPING"

The Commercial Department at Hagerstown High School consists of five classes: Shorthand, Typing, Bookkeeping, General Business and Office Practice.

In addition to their own work the students in this department are helpful to the teachers in the typing of tests, study sheets, and menus for the cafeteria along with the Exponent news. The teachers connected with this department are Mrs. Barnhart and Mr. Rudicel.

SCIENCE SHOWS THE WAY

Under the able guidance of Mr. Barnhart the science students can be seen two days of every week committing weird and strange experiments in the laboratory, most of which can be applied practically to everyday uses. The rest of the week the students are busily learning formulae, laws, and equations—all of which are used by practical people throughout the world. They are learning science by doing.

Sometimes, Mr. Barnhart has to call some of the students down, but on the whole, the class is responsive, easy to manage, and very attentive, for they know just how much science shows the way in our lives.

X + Y = MATHEMATICS

Many students today are learning just how much math means to them. During the 3½ year course of math the student is taught Freshman Algebra, Plane Geometry, Advanced Algebra, Solid Geometry, and Trigonometry.

The student learns many practical applications of his problems, how to bisect a line, he learns sines, cosines, and tangents for measuring triangles, how to use the slide rule, how to measure, and read the transit, how to find the unknown angles in a triangle. He is taught the many different ways of solving problems—finding areas of triangles and measuring distances. He derives a certain pleasure in working and solving the problems he is given.

Under the expert guidance of Mrs. Abbott and Mr. Lester the math students have found not only work but enjoyment in the classes which they attend.

SHOP

The shop students of Hagerstown High School, under Mr. Sedgwick, are very fortunate in having such a large shop where they may do their work. Here, they learn to do different jobs such as learning how to operate all of the machines, read blue-prints, and even some have become expert welders.

Upon completion of their shop courses most of the boys will be ready to take a place in the world of industry as skilled mechanics and machine operators to help ease the demand for skilled craftsmen.

ART CLASSES PROVE INTERESTING

"Preparing ourselves for tomorrow," was the goal the art students set this year.

They have participated in several activities and projects. At the first of the year the student chose their own individual projects. Some of the projects were still-lives, out door sketches, clay modeling, figure drawing and costume designing.

The project which probably created the most favorable comment was the work of furnishing each room with an appropriate picture for the Christmas holidays.

The second semester specific projects were assigned to be done, such as oil paintings, and posters of different styles. Each student did an Easter seal for the Crippled Children fund drive.

Art students and Miss Clevenger have attended three art exhibits at the McGuire art galleries in Richmond which proved very interesting.

Of course, the usual requests by activity groups for art assistance were graciously granted.

VENGAN VDS. CONMIGO

"Come with me to Spain, the land of romantic caballeros and pretty señoritas. Well, perhaps you can't go to Spain, but you can do the next best thing—learn about Spain, South America, and their language right here at H. H. S. Occasionally you will learn a song or two (and conjugate a few verbs.)

Both first and second year Spanish students seemed not only to have learned something about Spanish (and English grammar, too) but also to have enjoyed the "Spanish atmosphere."

LATIN LIVES AGAIN!

The old belief that "Latin is dead" does not apply at H. H. S., for Mrs. Helman, without the aid of magic serums, has brought this ancient language out of its suspended animation, and has given it a new and vivid life.

Along with their study of participles, gerunds and nouns, the Latin students have also taken imaginary journeys to Rome, Greece, and accompanied Caesar and his armies to Gaul.

Not only do we at H. H. S. shout the praises of this class, but the entire state knows of its work. Last year Marjorie Teetor was awarded first prize in the state first year Latin contest.

GOOD LEADERSHIP IN SCOUT TROOP

Over the years Hagerstown has had one of the best Scout troops, if not the best, in the White Water Valley Council. A great deal of the recognition should go to our outstanding scout master who has worked many years to bring about a fine program for the boys of our community. "Ted" has a wonderful knowledge of nature and handicraft and a great understanding of boys. He has used this skill and knowledge to teach the boys of Troop 3 to become well trained, useful citizens for both now and the future.

Troop 3 has a broad program of education, including, camping, hiking, first aid, cooking, and many others. The main things scouting teaches are to keep a clear head, a good body, and be ready to help others. The Boy Scouts present a program which is of great value to all boys.

ON MY HONOR . . .

The Senior Service Scouts consist of girls from the freshman through the senior class who are now under the leadership of Miss Resler, Miss Clevenger, and Miss Betty Marsh.

They spent a winter weekend at the Scout Lake, organized a basketball team, and aided the Red Cross in their membership drive.

Troop I is composed of seventh and eighth graders. They have been especially helpful on paper drives, and also spent a weekend at the Scout Lake with their leader, Mrs. Stanley Davis.

"OLD DOC" PRESENTED BY SENIOR CLASS

"Whosever house I enter,

There will I go for the benefit of the sick."

For their final presentation on the Hagerstown Auditorium stage, the Senior Class chose a light drama portraying the life of a small town doctor.

"Old Doc" (Frank Ashinger) was determined to convince his son, young Dr. Robert Hillary (Jim Cory) that he could benefit the people more if he stayed at home instead of going to a large city to begin his practice. Bob did not see his father's point of view until after "OLD DOC'S" death. As the curtains closed, Bob announced he would be the next Dr. Hillary in his home town and was soon going to marry his childhood sweetheart, Margaret Burns (Madge Blevins).

Miss Resler proved very capable as director. She had a lot of ups and downs with the cast, but managed to get the best out of them when the performance was given. Those assisting Miss Resler were: Betty Ridge, student director; Dorothy Gwin, prompter; and Martha Cromer, business manager. Without the help of the people backstage, "OLD DOC" would not have been produced so efficiently and effectively.

"LOVE IS TOO MUCH TROUBLE"

Under the direction of Miss Betty Resler, the junior play, "Love Is Too Much Trouble," was a howling success. From the time the curtains opened on the first scene, until they closed at the end of the third act, the audience literally "rolled in the aisles."

"Love Is Too Much Trouble" takes place in the campus hangout, the Poison Pot. Joe Burke, a young college fellow, had been restricted so that he could not attend the Junior Prom. His friend, Pinky, had his troubles, too—money for the Junior Prom orchestra. They used various hilarious methods of raising the money and in the end they finally succeeded. Several college girls also entered into the play and contributed further to the plot.

There've been some changes made in . . .

F E A T U R E S

Compare the school calendar of 1947 with one of two decades ago. . . . Visual aid programs, guidance speakers, student-planned functions (with finesse), standardized testing, North Central inspection, student council organization, field trips to Richmond, Purdue, Indianapolis—these are the changes which indicate the broader scope of education today.

Informal snap-shots from the candid camera tell the story in this section of our Epitome about every day school life. May they ever remind us of a care-free period of youth at old H. H. S.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

Part I

We, the class of '47' being of sound (??) mind, do bequest next years' highly prized position as Seniors to this year's Junior Class.

THE INDIVIDUAL WILLS

Part II

Charles Litton wills his seat on the Dalton school bus to anyone who would like to miss his first period classes.

Maxine Messer wills her collection of empty ink bottles to Mrs. Murphey's next Economics class so they can keep it growing.

Jo Ann Mays wills her fantastic job of smearing paint on the Senior Play Cast to the make-up smearer of next years' Senior Play.

Marvin Sherry wills his seat in Chemistry to anyone who will copy off of Henry Charles as much as he did.

Jackie Snoke wills her bright red glasses to Mr. Barnhart, providing he doesn't go around scaring little children with them.

Walter Ulrich wills the back seat of his car to Reke and Lois.

Edna Coomes wills her "peaches and cream" complexion to Phyllis Greer, providing she uses it to further her interest with Jim Murphey.

Polly Day wills her marvelous sense of humor to Rodge, providing he puts it to good use as she did.

Phyllis Bowman wills her cute giggle to Marilyn Ulrich, providing Marilyn can get as far with it as Phyllis has.

Herschel Murray wills his intra-mural team to Jerry Bertram, providing he wins most of his games.

Beverly Thalls wills her seat in Mrs. Barnhart's assembly to any Junior girls that promises to stay there as much as she did.

Mae Kidwell cheerfully wills her office job to any Junior who is wide awake at 8:30 in the morning.

Virginia Rhoades wills her locker to Margaret Ozburn, providing Margaret doesn't mind the lock being "lifted" by Charlie Lindley once in a while.

Bill Wilkinson wills his Senior Cords to Dave Teetor, providing he doesn't ruin them with snowballs while Bill is still wearing them.

Eddie Edwardson wills his tatoo to Betty Lou Lindley.

Peggy Smith wills her winning smile to Elsie Helman providing she will use it as much as Peggy did.

Evelyn Miller wills her ability to "ditch" school to Dorothy Rinehart.

Phyllis Wissler wills her ability to keep Helen Smith supplied with money to next years' Senior Class Treasurer.

Mouse Gray wills his coon hat to Tom Moore, providing Tom will wear it into all the theaters he goes to.

Della Jean Hayes wills her height to Mary Ann Foulke so she can reach Abe.

Sam Baumgartner wills his address book to Bob Forrest, providing Bob promises to write as faithfully as Sam did.

Mary Weiler wills her "scoreboard" to anyone who thinks she can have as much fun acquiring it as Mary did.

Marilyn Worl wills her unusual ability (???) to sneeze to anyone who can cause as much disturbance as she did.

Martha Cromer wills her excess knowledge to Betty Jane Small.

Bob H. Gray wills his wavy blond hair to Mr. Barnhart, providing he will not part it so wide as he does now.

Lois Aders wills her choice apple-polisher's seat in bookkeeping class to Mary Carolyn Eubank.

Marilyn Bane wills her brown eyes to Gloria Davolt, providing Gloria doesn't use them to flirt with the poor, helpless boys in the library the 6th period.

Dean Conwell wills his black derby to Charles Cain. He hopes it will make Charles more popular with the seventh and eighth grade girls.

Marcia McGeorge wills her love troubles to anyone who can get out of them easier than Marcia can.

Joan Clark wills her ability to get a diamond to any Junior girl wanting one.

Phil Stohler wills his seat in Chemistry class to Bernard Taylor providing he doesn't sleep all the time like Phil did.

Bonnie Stauble wills her hair to Janie Cartmell, providing she doesn't peroxide it.

Joyce Johnson wills her brown eyes to someone without as many charms as she has.

Jim Cory wills his Chemistry lab. partner to Ted Knapp, providing Teddy can get along as well (?) as Jim did.

Jean Rodenbeck wills to Mr. Baughman one jug of "Speed" serum to be injected each morning in his many tardy patients.

Eugene Bruner wills his inability to think of anything to will to anyone that will need it next year.

Bob Gray Jr. wills his ability to miss school to Allen Hale, providing Al uses it as much as Bob did.

Barbara Steward wills her ability to cook to Mr. Baughman, providing he can eat his own cooking.

Bill Demaree wills his ability to get into trouble to Henry Charles, providing Henry can think up better excuses than Bill did.

Frank Ashinger wills his ability to save money by not going out with girls to Jim Sedgwick.

Joe Bob Blunk wills his seat in bookkeeping to anyone sucker enough to take it next year.

Madge Blevins wills her job to anyone stupid enough to take it.

Helen Garvin wills her quiet ways to anyone fortunate enough to get them.

Max Bruner wills his car to anyone who likes to go fast.

Marjorie Fulton wills her red hair to Mr. Baughman because she believes his own will soon be gray.

Dorothy Gwin wills Mrs. Barnhart a book of passes to carry with her at all times.

Betty Ridge wills her ability to "chat" with Mrs. Helman during fifth period Library to Martha Foulke, providing their "chattering" doesn't turn into "gossiping."

Betty Barrett wills her build to Mary Beth Cromer, hoping they can reach a happy medium.

PROPHECY

May 10, 1962

"Smudge," that breakfast food that doesn't snap, crackle, or pop, but just lays there and sops up milk, has been conducting a survey among people from all walks of life about their professions and, by a strange coincidence, all the people interviewed graduated from H. H. S. back in 1947. This is what they're doing now:

Walter Ulrich Jr., great mathematician (?), has just found out how many times a peanut, pushed from St. Louis to Oswego, will roll over.

Jackie Snoko is now Senator Clagghorns' Grammar teacher (you all).

Joyce Johnson has just finished her fifth successful season singing at the Metropolitan Opera House.

Mouse Gray, that sensational crooner, who took Frankie's position a few years ago is still going strong.

Marilyn Worl is taster at a large distillery. She works overtime several nights a week.

Eddie Edwardson, straight man in a Burlesque Show, states, "What the stage needs is more intermissions."

Marcia McGeorge has a good job in the big city. Her address is Maisy, 2d row, 3d from left.

Sam Baumgartner was owner of the 'Raise Five' card hall, Reno. His funeral is tomorrow. (Stacked Deck)

Martha Cromer has been saving souls from coast to coast with her evangelistic services.

Marilyn Bane is a devoted little house wife. Her spare time hobby is raising ducks.

Max Bruner, movie star, has just completed a new picture, THE TWIN PEAKS. This is a follow up of that old picture, THE OUTLAW.

Betty Barrett has been in China the last two years, investigating a report she heard in her high school days about the people there.

Marvin Sherry, explorer and globe trotter, has but one remark to make concerning travel. He says, "My, those cattle cars are cold."

Beverly Thalls is the overseer of a nation wide chain of five and ten cent stroes. She got her start working in the store at Hagerstown.

James E. Cory, lawyer, has just completed his latest case, Wilkinson vs. Hayes. This was the most astounding case brought to the U. S. Supreme Court in the history of this country. Bill Wilkinson, a driver for the Chess Cab Company, collided with Della Jean Hayes, driver for the Universal Trucking Corporation, but he declares that "ladies first" does not apply to traffic laws. The first lady Supreme Court Judge in history, Lois Aders, has not decided in either ones' favor yet.

Phyllis Bowman has just won the Office Girls of America beauty contest. Her picture will be placed on all standard typewriters.

Nurse Edna Coomes was recently discharged from Hagerstown Municipal Hospital because she threw some used bandages away before taking them off the patients.

Frank Ashinger is circulation manager of Esgirl Magazine. Frank attributes his success to being a paper boy in his youth.

Betty Ridge has finally completed her greatest book, The Care and Feeding of Mongoose. Everyone should have a copy.

Barbara Steward is Campus Queen at Stinking Creek, New Mexico. Peggy Smith is Dean of Women at the same college.

Bob H. Gray of the F. B. I. has finally found out what they do on a rainy night in Rio, but he's too embarrassed to tell.

Mae Kidwell is in the business of raising Dinosaurs. She hopes to enter one in the Kentucky Derby next year.

Bob 'Mad Man' Gray, Jr., has a thriving (??) used car business. Finally, at great expense he has secured Jack Benny's Maxwell.

Madge Blevins and Polly Day, wrestlers, are both training to meet in the Championship Match soon. Neither Mangler Madge nor Death-grip Day have lost a match. Time alone will tell who the winner will be.

Bill Demaree, millionaire (not filthy rich, but just good and soiled), says, "Whether you're rich or poor, it's nice to have money."

The former Joan Clark is happily married and the mother of ten children. Joan's only trouble is finding a place to live.

Dean Conwell is now Stay-on Tester in a lipstick factory. Says Mr. Conwell, "Nice work if you can get it." Got his start in Hagerstown, too.

Bona Jean Stauble, telephone operator, has finally got a call through from Washington to Moscow. Miss Stauble hopes that this time Russia says something besides "No."

Charles Litton is fervently hoping for a fire in the big city of Franklin so he can try the new fire fighting equipment out.

Jo Ann Mays, that great artist, has just finished her most precious works. She has painted murals on the ashtrays in the Y-Teen's room.

Jean Rodenbeck owns a model farm. She has perfected a tractor that will go 90 miles per hour so it will be more exciting work to drive it.

Virginia Rhoades has just signed a contract to play short stop for the Dodgers. She started playing ball in her younger days with a factory team and has been at it ever since.

Phil Stohler is now Mayor of the thriving city of Millville. He is trying to pass a law that will prevent the sidewalks from being rolled up at night. If this law is passed, however, it will put Phyllis Wissler, the official roller-upper out of a job.

Herschel Murray is a very prosperous and happy man. He is head of the Society of Coon Dog Trainers of America.

Mary Weiler has moved to the city after finding out that the stories she has heard about the farmer's daughter are not true.

Dorothy Gwin, not to be outdone by her friend B. Ridge, has also written a book entitled "The Gentle Art of Safe Cracking." She gives thanks to Number 3654895, Sing Sing, for giving her material for the book.

George has gone back to the old custom of two (2) governors. This season they are Joe Bob Blunk and Eugene Bruner. (One wit is better than a half.)

Helen Garvin and Maxine Messer have just entered their fourth month in a silence marathon. They are firm believers in that old saying, 'Silence Is Golden.'

I was thinking that if Silence is really that good, I'd better shut up too. Good-bye All.
